*Bidhan Chandra College, Asansol owes its origin to the energetic and sincere efforts of the members of Asansol Educational Development Committee and Relief and Welfare Society the major program of which was to establish a grade one college at Asansol with a view to meet the increasing demand of this vast industrial area for higher education. Sri SASTHI NARAYAN GORAI made a humble contribution of Rs.1,11,111/- for foundation of the college. ## FROM THE DESK OF THE PRINCIPAL

'The first duty of an educational institution is to teach wisdom, not trade; character, not technicalities.'

*As one premiere institute of the formerly District of Burdwan and presently the District of Paschim Bardhaman, Bidhan Chandra College, Asansol, has long been engaged in the dissemination of knowledge and culture amongst the students from mainly the borderlands of West Bengal, Jharkhand, Bihar and Uttar Pradesh. Proud of its rich heritage as the only college being named after one of the founders of modern India, Dr. Bidhan Chandra Roy during his lifetime, with its foundation stone being laid by none other than Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrisnan, this institute has recently entered into a new phase of cultivation of knowledge with its accreditation by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council under University Grants Commission. **

The college now gives special attention to attaining the level of national standard set by UGC and is going through major changes towards infrastructure and quality enhancement, while remaining committed to the basic courses of study. Coping with the CBCS system introduced by the newly founded affiliating university, Kazi Nazrul University, the entire course management is made to be more exploring and based on students' needs.

*At this crucial juncture of its history all the wings of our institutions promise to welcome each and every new comer to a cordial environment of learning and sharing.
With best wishes*
