

1. Objective Type :

- a) What is psychology?
- b) Which psychological method is called subjective?
- c) What are the levels of consciousness according to Freud?
- d) What is learning?
- e) What is attention?
- f) What does the Greek word 'Psyche' mean?
- g) What is memory?
- h) What is emotion?
- i) What is I.Q.?

2. Very Short Type :

- a) What is behaviour?
- b) What is sensation?
- c) What is perception?
- d) What are the factors of memory?
- e) What are the marks of good memory?
- f) What is introspection?
- g) What are the physiological conditions of attention?
- h) What is retention?
- i) What is learning?
- j) What is reflex action?
- k) What is experimental method?
- l) What is endocrine gland?

3. Short Type:

- a) What is the subject matter of Psychology? Discuss in brief.
- b) Explain the experimental method of Psychology.
- c) Explain the method of introspection.
- d) Explain in brief the 'conditioned reflex' theory of learning as propounded by Pavlov.
- e) Explain James-Lange Theory of emotion.
- f) Explain the functioning of Central Nervous System.
- g) Explain the Gestalt theory of learning.
- h) Explain the objective condition of attention.

4. Essay Type:

- a) Explain and examine observation as a method of Psychology.
- b) What is consciousness? What are the proofs for the existence of the unconscious state of mind? Explain.
- c) Explain the conditions of Attention.