

Model Questions (Sem - 2)

History of Western Philosophical Thought - II (H.) Paper - C4

1. Objective Type :

- a) What is knowledge according to Locke?
- b) What is impression according to Hume?
- c) What is resemblance according to Hume?
- d) What is abstract general idea?
- e) Mention the name of any book written by David Hume.
- f) What, according to, are the two sources of knowledge.
- g) Which philosopher advocate the view that qualities are ideas?
- h) What are primary qualities, according to Locke?
- i) Give an example of a proposition expressing relation of ideas.
- j) What, according to Kant, are the two forms of sensibility?

2. Very Short Type :

- a) What is solipsism according to Berkeley?
- b) What is sensitive knowledge according to Locke?
- c) What is contiguity in time according to Hume?
- d) How does an impression differ from an idea, according to Hume?
- e) Define with an example the notion of synthetic judgment.
- f) Why is a philosopher called Sceptic in the world of philosophy?
- g) State after Locke the notion of complex idea.
- h) What, according to Quine, are the two dogmas by which modern empiricism has been conditioned?
- i) Bring out the meaning of the term 'solipsism'.

e) How would you define idealism?

f) What is 'Absolute Idea' in the philosophy of Hegel?

3. Short Type:

a) How does Hume distinguish between impression and ideas?

b) Explain Berkeley's rejection of the Locke's notion of substance.

c) Discuss Locke's theory of substance.

d) How does Berkeley reject the reality of abstract ideas.

e) Briefly discuss Hume's constant conjunction theory of causation.

f) How does Kant demonstrate the possibility of synthetic a priori judgment?

g) Give a brief analysis of Hegel's dialectical method.

4. Essay Type:

a) Explain Locke's analysis of the degrees of knowledge.

b) "Esse est percipi" - explain the thesis.

c) Is the philosophy of Kant, Copernican or Ptolemaic? Discuss.

d) What, according to Quine, are the two shortcomings of Kant's notion of analyticity? Demonstrate how Quine has examined the concept of meaning pursuing his own restatement of Kant's formulation of analyticity.